2016 has started with a bang...a flat tyre on the bus, plus huge changes in the class as many from Year 6 last year moved up to Year 7 to be taught by our new teacher Samuel.

Great to see all the old faces from last year back again, and we welcomed five new students moving up from Sonja's class. Unfortunately we have had only a few of our class in attendance for most days in first term due to funerals etc., but we want to see every child every day in term two.

This year we have tried to make our classroom very friendly and inviting. We have had some great visitors from other schools. It was fantastic to meet Aminah, Christina, Rosemary and Sharaya from other communities, and we had Sebastian visit for a few weeks who was in our class for a time last year. We have had a chance this term to visit Samuels's class at the secondary campus, and have the older students visit our class and do some schoolwork together. We are hoping to spend many lessons together this year with Samuel and Priscilla, in the classroom and in the outdoors.

Class work has been fun this year trying many new ideas in Numeracy and Literacy, starting work on our huge wall mural, and visits from Vanessa to help us set up our classroom with the help of Virginia, Julie and Caroline our AEWs.
